

Outdoor Summer Fun

Tin Foil River and Mini Ice Boats

I filled some ice cube trays with coloured water, covered them with plastic wrap, and poked toothpicks through. When they were frozen I added some little paper sails. I used the cheap aluminum foil from the dollar store. Just unroll it, curl up the sides a little, and start the garden hose. It doesn't need to be a great big hill, but a slope is definitely helpful.

Lawn Art

Find an old sheet or purchase one at a thrift store. Stake the sheet down by pushing long nails through the corners into the grass so only the nail head is showing. Place paint in styrofoam bowls and use a variety of paint brushes as well as your fingers to paint.

Parachute Play

Use an old sheet together outside as a parachute then place items in it to toss in the air (ex. Water balloons, balls), see how high or fast you can move it around on the sheet without it falling off.

Sponge Bullseye

Marble Launch

Cut a pool noodle in half lengthways to open it up, place a start and finish line on the inside of the noodle, and then elevate the start end up. Place marbles at the start letting go at the same time and race.

Noodle Game

Cut pool noodles in half and scatter blown-up balloons on the ground around a laundry basket and try to hit them in or see how long you can keep one up in the air for.
